Good morning Bridget,

I wanted to let you know about a free opportunity for high school students in hopes that you could share it with the high schoolers you work with. We have our Anytown Youth Leadership Institute coming up from June 12-17. This is a free, overnight camp for any high school student in the Miami Valley. Through education, discussion, and immersive activities, students learn about diversity, equity, and inclusion.

I've attached the flyer for it, and students can learn more and register at www.nccjgreaterdayton.org/anytown. And please reach out with any questions! Thanks!

Anytown Youth Leadership Institute

Anytown Youth Leadership Institute is a week long overnight program that occurs annually in June.

During the week, delegates (participants) from across the Miami Valley come together to engage in conversation and education about diversity, equity, and inclusion. Delegates also spend time extensively participating in activities surrounding specific DEI issues and topics such as race, gender, ability/disability, class, and allyship.

NCCJ Sources funding to allow all students the opportunity to attend Anytown FREE.

Hi!

I sent it to all the classes at the HS and asked our principal to put it in the family newsletter. I wish my daughter was old enough. And bummer we are out of town for the younger camp. Next year, maybe...
